30th Season

Theatre Guild Valdosta

Presents

A 30th Anniversary Celebration Show

A Holiday Musical Review

December 12 -15, 2018

Time: Christmas Eve

Location: Ludewici International Airport

Premise: A flight from Miami has been diverted to a small town due to heavy snows in Atlanta.

As passengers disembark, they have the opportunity to share their stories and songs of the season.

There will be a 15-minute intermission between the two acts.

Volunteers always needed and appreciated

BACK STAGE

Do you prefer to volunteer behind the scenes?

Set Construction— Do you like to swing a hammer, use a power drill or paint? We need seasoned professionals as well as not-so-gifted amateurs who are willing to learn to help us get our sets built. We also need scenic painters who can do faux finishes and/or murals!

Sound & Light Operators—We're always looking for "techies" who would rather be in the booth than on stage.

No experience necessary.

Stage Managers/Stage Crew— We need stage managers, every show, to keep our actors organized and on cue. We also need stage crew to assist the stage manager for larger shows! No experience necessary - we will train!

Costumes Shop and Sewing—Each show needs a costumer. If you can sew, you can help.

FRONT OF HOUSE

Do you prefer being front and center?

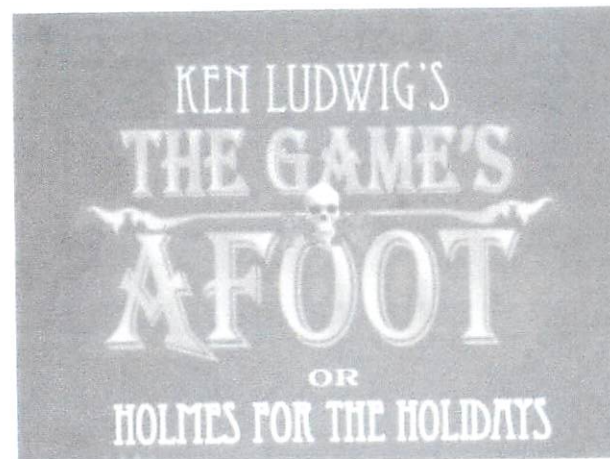

Concessions and Ushers—Show patrons to their seats before the show, then help with refreshments for intermission.

Ticket Window—Be in the ticket window thirty minutes before the show begins to hand out will-call tickets.
